Pay Rate: Hourly; $18 - $28 per hour; dependent on experience and certifications.

Status: Seasonal; non-exempt. Bulk of work occurs December-March.

Hours: Dependent on program schedule; includes regular weekend, afternoon, and holiday work. Instructors are assigned a specific schedule which they must adhere to and have shifts covered during absences. Additional work can be available during busy times.

Benefits:

- Full season pass to Hoodoo for instructors committing to at least 24 days of teaching.
- Paid training.
- Reimbursement for PSIA dues and most certifications.
- Access to pro-deals with outdoor industry retailers.
- Frequent social and appreciation events.

Schedule:

Workday:

The typical instructor work day commences at 8:30am at the OAS room at Hoodoo Ski Area and concludes at approximately 4:00pm. Some events or groups required altered start and end times. Additionally there are occasional evening trainings and meetings scheduled throughout the season.

Season:

The 2022-23 winter season at Hoodoo for OAS will run from approximately January 5th to April 3rd, 2023. Early season paid training will take place at Mt Bachelor from December 13th - December 22, 2022. Dependent on the residence of Hoodoo instructors (i.e. if living in the Willamette Valley), travel assistance may be provided for participation in early season training.

Instructors are expected to commit to a weekly schedule of two, three or four days of instruction per week. Exact schedule, season start and end dates are subject to change due to resort operations and snow levels. OAS Hoodoo operations typically run Thursday through Sunday each week.

How to Apply:

Please submit a resume and brief cover letter to hire@oregonadaptivesports.org. OAS staff will follow up with all candidates. Positions remain open until filled. OAS anticipates filling 2-3 positions this season.
